LIE DETECTOR TO BE USED IN BABIES' DEATH

Suspect Volunteers at Massillon as Police Air "Accident" Theory.

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., June 9—Assistant Stark County Prosecutor W. Bernard Rodgers said today a man who volunteered to a lie detector test would be given the test late today in connection with the death of two baby girls at City hospital.

Rodgers, newly assigned to the case by the county prosecutor, said a "merely routine" test would be made in Cleveland, following funeral services for the two victims.

The police, headed by Chief Stanley W. Switter, were pursuing an "accident" theory in the questioning of small children who were in the hospital at the time Diane J. Brand, 10 weeks, and Rosemary Morton, nine weeks, were found dying of skull fractures. The chief said it might have been possible for a child to have picked up the babies and dropped them.

To Air All Theories

Stark County Prosecutor Deane McLaughlin assigned W. Bernard Rodgers, assitant prosecutor, and Harry Grossglaus, a county detective, to aid the Massillon police.

Rodgers said they would "investigate all theories."

Hospital Superintendent E. J. Lincke said the hospital's board of trustees would meet later to review the facts in the investigation. Funerals for both the victims were being held this afternoon.

The chief, declaring he was pursuing a theory the babies died following an accident, planned to continue his talks with children who were in a sun room on the same floor as the pediatrics nursery in which the baby girls were found dying, last Friday night.

He talked last night with three of the six children, in the presence of Hospital Superintendent E. J. Lincke and two nurses, but said the talks led nowhere.

Sees Children in Hallway

Earlier he had received a report from Ralph Fricke, who said that while he was visiting his son on the fourth floor he had seen two small children in a hallway between the sun room and the pediatrics ward.

The chief said the three children told him they were not in the hallway. Two of them were aged six and eight, but he did not know the age of the third, added Switter.

Funeral services were scheduled today for the baby girls, 10-week-old Diane J. Brand and nine-week-old Rosemary Morton.

A nurse discovered them at 7:45 p. m. Friday, near death, at the foot of their cribs. They were the sole occupants of the hospi-

BOY, 10, DROWNED NEAR DELAWARE

Body Recovered from Water-Filled Hole.

The body of Richard Trippier Jr., 10, of Bellepoint, near Delaware, was recovered by sheriff's deputies Sunday morning from a water filled hole south of Bellepoint where he drowned Saturday. The body was discovered after a four-hour search.

The boy and three companions had gone to the hole to play Saturday afternoon. The other children said they called for Richard before they left but received no answer. Thinking he had gone home ahead of them, they carried his shirt with them. It was believed he met his death after slipping from a mud bank. The hole in which water was about six feet deep was formed by excavation work for rerouting of Route 42 near Bellepoint.

The boy's father and neighbors conducted an unsuccessful search of the neighborhood Saturday afternoon when it was discovered the boy was missing. Sheriff's deputies were called in later when no trace of the child was found.

Sugar Rationing May End This Month—If

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—Wartime rationing of sugar for household use may be ended this month if:

1. Enough shipping is available between this country and Cuba.
2. There is no maritime strike.
3. Domestic consumption of sugar remains at its present level.

The three controlling factors were listed by highly placed officials on Capitol Hill shortly after Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told the housing banking committee Saturday that household rationing of sugar would end as soon as possible.

The cabinet officer said Cuban production has increased by 600,000 tons over the figure used when allocations were made early this year.

7 ACCIDENTS IN CITY'S TRAFFIC

One Arrest Also Included in Police Report for Weekend.

Seven accidents in Marion occurring Saturday and yesterday were reported by city police.

An arrest followed an accident in which cars driven by Arnett M. Shields, 44, of 202½ North Main street and Charles E. Swards, 65, of Columbus were involved yesterday at 3:15 p. m. Mr. Shield drove his car from the curb on North Main street and ran into the right rear fender of the car driven by Mr. Swards, tearing it off, police said. They reported he left the scene and was arrested shortly afterwards on North Main street. He was charged with driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning was fined $100 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for three years.

Cars driven by George W. Pluchel, 16, of 244 Hane avenue and James F. Messenger, 20, of 351 West Center street collided on East Center street Saturday afternoon. Damage to both vehiles was slight.

Robert K. Hooper, 26, of 172 West Columbia street was driver of one of two cars which sideswiped on West Center street near Main street Saturday morning. He did not obtain the name of the driver of the other car.

A car driven by Delmos Moore of route 2, Caledonia, was hit from the rear by one driven by Richard W. Micheal of Milbury, O. The accident occurred on South Main street at the Columbia street traffic light yesterday morning. The Micheal car was damaged.

George R. Marshall, 18, of Toledo avenue passed a car driven by Mrs. Alice J. Kaufman, 27, of north of Marion and collided with one driven by Clifford E. Glassmeyer. The accident occurred on West George street at the Prospect street intersection last night. Brakes on the Marshall car failed, police say, and he was unable to stop when the car ahead of him did. He drove around to avoid hitting the Kaufman car and hit the Glassmeyer car which was turning onto West George

The moral of this mishap is, don't crank your car without taking it out of gear. Driverless cars owned by Harry Hank, 23, of 340 Oak street and Mrs. Matilda Bolinger of 346 East Church street were involved in an accident when Mr. Hank cranked his car. It was in reverse gear, and started up, hitting the Bolinger car, which was parked, and pushing it over the curb and into a tree on East Church street near High street at noon yesterday.

Slight damage resulted when cars driven by William F. Kehrwecker, 52, of 971 Henry street and Mrs. Lillian January, 45, of Route 2 Marion collided on Bellefontaine avenue at Davids street Saturday afternoon.

TRUMAN DELAYS HIS TAX, LABOR DECISION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—President Truman will withhold action on the income tax reduction and labor bills until he returns next Friday from Canada.

Telling reporters this today, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said "thousands of letters" have flooded into the White House on both measures.

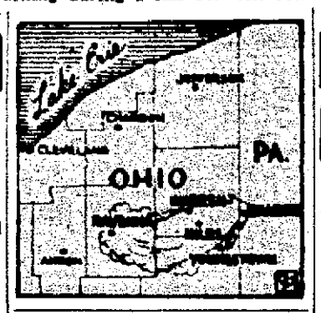
"Most of the mail is concerning the labor bill, and most of it urges a veto," he said. "The mail comes from both individuals and organizations."

The President will leave Washington tonight at 8 p. m. and will address the Canadian parliament on Wednesday. He is to arrive back in Washington Friday night.

He has until Monday to act on the tax bill which reduces income taxes by 10.5 to 30 per cent. Unless he signs or vetoes it by Monday midnight, it will become law without his signature.

He must act within 10 days (excluding Sundays) after a measure reaches him.

The labor bill has not yet reached the White House, but probably will arrive late today. Congressional action was completed last week.



Says Truman Fence Building

G.O.P. Calls Kansas City Plea for Welfare Program Political Move.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—Republicans accused President Truman today of trying to "build political fences" in his Kansas City speech outlining a broad domestic welfare program and criticizing the G.O.P.-controlled congress for cutting appropriations.

But Democrats took the view the Chief Executive simply was restating his position on issues confronting the nation.

Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) told a reporter he "thinks" the country's reclamation program—mentioned specially by the President—has become involved in politics "by those who are more interested in building political fences than they are in building reclamation projects."

"It is unfortunate that the President, who now wants reclamation projects built rapidly, should have seen fit last August to freeze reclamation development by an executive order tying up 60 per cent of the funds for construction," Dworshak declared.

Senator Baldwin (R-Conn) said he thinks Mr. Truman's speech, delivered Saturday night before veterans of the 35th division, "sounds like a campaign document."

While the Republicans took issue with many of the President's proposals, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) had high praise for what he described as "a fine, liberal statement showing that the President is trying to promote the general welfare of the whole people and not just the welfare of the privileged few."

Mr. Truman called, among other things, for an increase in minimum wages, broadening of social security, decent housing and equalization of educational opportunities.

St. Mary Graduates Hear Call To Lives of Christian Wisdom

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A return to the practice of Christian wisdom, "which alone can bring happiness and concord," to be Christophers—Christ-bearers, and to assume leadership in a world in which anti-Christian elements have made it their business to swarm into key positions in every field of endeavor, was the challenge laid down to 29 seniors of St. Mary Parochial High school by Rev. Mark Mindrup, O.M.C., of the faculty of Our Lady of Carey seminary, Carey, in his address at the school's sixty-seventh annual commencement exercises, yesterday afternoon.

In keeping with the school tradition pupils of the upper classes took part in the exercises, held at 4 o'clock in St. Mary Catholic church. The pastor, the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman V. F., presented the diplomas and the music was by St. Mary choir and the high school students. The exercises concluded with Solemn Benediction with Rev. Spickerman as celebrant, Rev. James Carroll, assistant pastor, deacon and Rev. Mindrup as sub-deacon. Presiding at the organ was Miss Jane Bedford.

Points To Pathway

The road of self-sacrifice, of obedience to authority, and harmony with our fellowmen, a road God has marked for humanity, and a return to God was the speaker's answer to man's quest for happiness on earth. "It is the pathway marked by the sign of the cross which our Lord has trodden to show us the way. When mankind finds that road and follows it," he said, "then it will find and possess the secret of wisdom, peace and happiness."

Painting an overall world picture of chaos, distrust, confusion and despair as seen through newspapers, books and magazines and heard in talks, what men are filled with fear and few with hope, Rev. Mindrup said, and added that the general apathetic conception seems to be that nothing can be done to save the world and its [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Hundreds Seek Healing from 'Static Breaker'

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 9—Roy Beebe and his mysterious little black box are a southern California phenomenon.

On one day recently motor cars from 28 states parked near his home. Thousands of ailing young and elderly people visit him each week because they believe his black box gives off a strange but healing "giving cosmic ray."

Hal Boyle

On the other hand Beebe, who holds no license to practice medicine, says that the black box merely is the source of a new "static breaker" he has invented, and denies he has cured anybody of anything.

"It would be foolish for me to tell you that the cosmic has a ray, or that it doesn't have a ray," he said. "If anybody says he got well here—I didn't do it."

But some people are hard to convince. For the last seven or eight years from 2,000 to 4,000 a day have come to six small cottage here seeking relief from their ailments. Neighbors complained bitterly and Beebe has started a new establishment on a 25-acre plot just outside the city limits.

10,000 Visitors Jam In

The day he opened his "cosmic research laboratories" some 10,000 visitors jammed in.

I went out to see his place. I found Beebe, a keen-eyed man of 63 wearing whipcord trousers and boots, puttering about the new plaster building, nucleus of a $100,000 center. He is an agricultural chemist and has grown eight-pound onions and five-pound tomatoes by mineralizing the soil. During the war he aided some local ranchers by suggesting that America could solve the rubber shortage from the fluid of the Mexican red poinsettia. The government, however, relied on other measures.

"This laboratory is to teach chemistry as applied to the soil," he said. "And if anybody calls it a health resort—I'll whip 'em. I've got 2,000 signed up for the advanced courses. We believe in planting according to the planet's. We don't go into astronomy any deeper than that.

"Research Is Wonder"

"We have research here in the garden that is going to be a wonder. We're mineralizing it through solidified radiation."

I couldn't understand just what that was, so I asked Beebe to explain his "static breaker." Wires are strung all around the area, and many people who come here believe a "cosmic ray" flowing from these wires cures them of their ills.

One gray-haired woman nearby sat silently holding a coil of the wire to her bent hand.

"My static breaker is only 10 per cent perfect," Beebe said. "I got 90 per cent to go. It clarifies the air like a thunderstorm. You take an old radio that clicks and sputters from static. Bring it out here and it's clear as a bell."

"Never a Disturbance"

"I've had people of every nationality and political belief out here, but we're never had a disturbance.

"There must be a cause for that—there's a cause for everything. It's because the air is clear of static. That is it's at least 10 per cent clear. I've got that black box had, too, where nobody can find it."

I asked him about a score of jugs of water brought by visitors. A wire had been stuck into each jug.

"It clears the algae from the water," he said. He doesn't charge visitors, and puts on three free [illegible] each week to entertain [illegible].

Donations Accepted

There is a jug handy, however, in which callers can drop in any sum they want. Beebe also has about wheat bakery bread available that has been treated with the static breaker" to take any confusion out of the grain. It isn't for sale exactly. You ask for a loaf and put down any amount of money you choose to. No change is given.

I walked over to an outdoor arbor under which a group of old men were playing checkers. A number of illness-marked women sat there holding coils of wire in their hands. Other wires led to parked cars in which sat old women too feeble to move.

I asked one plump middle-aged woman what led her here.

Cousin Up Cancer

"I live in Washington state," she said. "A neighbor of mine was given only four months to live by his doctor. He came here and after two weeks coughed up his cancer. I've been troubled by gallstones myself."

"How does this static business work?" I asked. She pointed at my foot on the ground.

"Does it feel any way?" she asked.

"Yes, it feels cool," I said. A breeze was blowing.

"No," she said. "It's warm. But everybody can't feel it. My gallstones are better, I can tell by the pain in my side. That means they're going away. I'm living in a rented trailer now but I'll have to find another place. I may have to stay here three or four years to get clear well."

Curious, I picked up one of the wires expected a slight shock. I felt—nothing.

Pain in Shoulder

...t always easy to fer... the cause of any particu... Some types of pain are ...ible but others may be characteristic of several ailments.

So does the individual suffering from inflammation of the fluid-containing sac or bursa around the shoulder blade. So does the victim of arthritis of the joints in the upper part of the spine.

Confronted with all these possibilities, which is the doctor to choose as the cause of his patient's trouble? That's where the art of diagnosis comes in. It may be a long, tedious job but where pain is the only symptom, the doctor will usually look first for the cause he knows to be the most common.

In this instance, according to Dr. E. S. James of Winnepeg, by far the most frequent cause is brachial neuritis due to what is known as a protruded intervertebral disk. These intervertebral disks are made up of cartilage which acts as a sort of pad between the small bones in the spine. If one of the disks in the upper part of the spine gets out of place, the symptoms of pain beginning in the lower part of the neck or over one shoulder and passing down into the arm may develop.

Most of the patients with brachial neuritis are over 40 years of age. There usually is no history of injury. Work, coughing or sneezing makes the pain worse. The pain is often more severe at night or when the head is held in one position for a long time. Weakness or numbness of the affected arm sometimes occurs. The patient may carry his head bent away from the side on which the pain is located. Bending of the neck toward the affected side with pressure on top of the head makes the pain worse. On the other hand, lifting the patient upward by placing one hand under his chin and the other under the back of his head may bring relief.

An X-ray of the spine usually does not show the defect, although the affected disk may appear to be narrowed. A substance known as iodized (iod-o-dol) may be injected into the spinal canal and an X-ray taken. Under these conditions the deformity of the spine may be seen in the X-ray plate.

The treatment of brachial neuritis includes rest, mild pain-relieving drugs the use of one or two extra pillows while sleeping, or the wearing of a leather collar around the neck to keep the head raised. It has also been found that the injection of vitamin B into a vein every other day for three injections may help give relief. Operations and removal of the disk may be helpful in some cases.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself, eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

FARMING LABOR PLAN DESIGNED

Program To Provide Steady Supply Up for Congressional Study.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9 — A new plan designed to provide a stable farm labor supply is scheduled for consideration shortly by the house agriculture committee.

It would authorize the agriculture department to cooperate with states and farmer organizations in methods designed to make the most effective use of agricultural workers, including the operation of farm labor camps. The hearings are set for June 16 and 17.

Under present legislation, the agriculture department must dispose of its farm labor camps by Jan. 30, 1948.

These camps, many of a permanent character, were constructed under the war-time labor program to house migrant workers.

Competition Anticipated

While the agriculture department assumes that their chief value is to farmers within easy reach of the labor centers, it anticipates that there will be competition for their purchase from persons who want them for tourist camps. The proposed legislation would forbid sale of any persons except for the housing of farm labor.

While during the war, an estimated 5,000,000 persons left the farms for the armed services or war work, there is always a demand for seasonal labor which can only be filled by migrants.

The meager war-time supply was augmented by around 100,000 workers from Mexico, Jamaica, the Bahamas and New Foundland, and by about 125,000 war prisoners.

The prisoners have been sent home and the free foreign labor supply will be discontinued this year. About 30,000 were believed to be in this country as of Jan. 1 this year.

The agriculture department estimates that there were approximately 1,000,000 agricultural migrants during 1946. This included some non-working members of worker families.

Migrant Labor Defined

An interagency committee, formed in 1945, defined migrant labor as "workers who occasionally or habitually move, with or without their families, to seek or engage in seasonal or temporary employment and who do not have the status of residents in the localities of expected job opportunity or employment."

This committee recommended federal assistance, through grants-in-aid to the states and the bill would authorize such appropriations as may be necessary on the basis of need.

Besides restricting the sale of labor camps to farmers, the proposed legislation would authorize federal land banks and banks for cooperatives to loan money for acquiring or constructing farm labor camps.

LIGHTED candles and tall baskets of white gladioli in the bay window of the livingroom at the home of Mr. and Mrs Clarence Shockney of 236 Lafayette was the setting for the wedding ceremony of their daughter, Barbara Anne and Richard Clayton Rice, Saturday afternoon. At the opposite side of the room the mantel was lighted with tapers held in a 10-branch candelabra and banked with greenery. Greenery also entwined the open stairway down which the bride was escorted by her father for the ceremony read at 3 30 o'clock by Rev. Eldred Johnston, pastor of Central Christian church. The candles were lighted by Miss Irene Theis of Akron, a college roommate of the bride, and as the guests were arriving there was a program of wedding music. The traditional wedding marches were used for the ceremony.

and true and peaceful, you cannot ask others to do it. To a heart-sick humanity that needs Him so much, He asks each of you to bring His light, to be a Christ-bearer, another Christopher—because He knows men will be drawn to Him through you." The exhortation to be a Christ-bearer —a Christopher, and bring about the betterment of the world is not directed to Catholics alone but to non-Catholics he added. "Many sincere non-Catholics believe in such immutable principles as a personal God, in Jesus Christ as true God and true man, in the Ten Commandments in the sacredness of the individual and his rights as coming from God and not the state. They believe in the sanctity of marriage and the home, in the right to private property and in the respect for true authority. They not only can, but want to work, all they sometimes need is a little encouragement.

Advises Government
Calling attention to the great good that can be effected through the effort of individuals working as Christophers, he urged the young people to go into government work, not for the sake of a job but to make sure that the Christian foundation of the nation is kept intact and strengthened. A magnificent opportunity waits in the field of education through newspapers, magazines, books, programs on the air and in the motion picture industry and each can measure up to the definition of a leader who "knows the way, goes the way and shows the way."

Confusion, chaos and crime will be corrected not by suppression but by education in Christian principles, Rev. Mindrup told his audience, and gave the lack of a religious background as a reason young people follow Communism. "They follow Communistic leadership because it is the only one they ever hear which promises a new future for all peoples and all lands. Unless the ideas and principles which inspire Communism are brought to the surface and exposed as false, their exponents may well assume the attitude of martyrs and the whole program of suppression may turn out to be a political 'witch hunt.'

"The correction of chronic economic distress and social injustice is the answer to primary arguments of Communism and the speaker described as a "great mistake" to imagine that Communism is simply a philosophy of despair with an appeal to the ragged and hungry. It is rather, he said, a dynamic voice of a defiant humanity which would end religion, God and the spiritual soul, and start the world on a march of material progress and communal unity ending with the grave."

In closing Rev. Mindup challenged the young people to face the situation courageously and consciously. "This woeful unbalance which threatens mankind can be remedied much more quickly than most people realize. And you graduates of this year and those who follow you are this bright new future, if—like Our Lady, the first Christ bearer who brought Him into the world—you strive to share Christ with all mankind."

Other Program Features
For the processional Miss Baldauf played a composition by Elgar and the choir and students sang "Jesus, My Lord," Abel, "Ave Verum," Gullmont, "Tantum Ergo," traditional and "O Lord Most Merciful," Concone. A composition by Mendelsohn was used for the processional.

The graduates, in caps and gowns, preceded by the high school pupils, marched from the school to the church, and following the exercises the procession returned to the grounds at the convent of the Sisters of Charity who make up the faculty, where they received the congratulations of their families and friends.

Honor Awards Made
Miss Patricia Caulfield and Miss Mary Teresa Scranton received gold medals for general excellence and Miss Caulfield received a scholarship to Mount-St. Joseph-on-the-Ohio college at Cincinnati. Miss Margaret MacDonald received an award for perfect attendance throughout her high school years. All students of the high school received their grade cards following the exercises.

The afternoon program was broadcast over Station WMRN with Richard Cook as narrator.

The seniors attended the 7:30 o'clock mass and received Holy Communion in a body Sunday morning. Rev. Spickerman gave the sermon and later members of the sophomore class were hosts at a breakfast at Greenwood Inn.

Prices and Politics

PRICES are in politics. That's the meaning of the White House blast charging Senator Taft with a boom-bust philosophy. It's the meaning of Taft's counter-blast charging Mr. Truman with fallacious and dangerous economic views.

The President may be expected to do everything he can from now on to lay all blame for high prices on Republican businessmen. It will be the same strategy used in 1932 and every national campaign thereafter until wartime—make business the goat for popular resentment and pretend that all businessmen are Republicans. It will succeed to the extent that the public is as gullible in 1947 as it was in 1932. Prices were in politics then too—low prices

Republicans, of course, will lay the blame on Democrats. This is just silly too. Democrats didn't raise prices. Mr. Truman's administration just didn't try to hold them down, that's all. Prices rose because circumstances combined to give the public more cash than it ever had before, in the midst of shortages, some inevitable, some induced to pull out "sucker money."

In the nature of things, however, the party in power gets blamed for everything that happens. The Truman administration is on the spot. It is trying to get off. It remembers the Hoover administration and shudders. "The Republicans are to blame!" it is screaming. Prices are in politics. They always are.

There's No Question

PREJUDICE disguised as "practical considerations" is the only thing that can bar America's traditional open-door to displaced persons who would be admitted under a proposal pending in the House of Representatives.

There can be no question, apart from prejudice, about admitting as many as possible of these displaced persons to refuge in this country, if they seek it. Most of them are Catholics and Jews whose religious and political principles got them into trouble with the government of Russia. Their claim to sympathy and assistance is unassailable.

The only persons the United States could give for not making the simple adjustments in its immigration quotas that would admit them are unworthy of American principles, or contrary to national experience with immigration in the past. It isn't being suggested that existing bars to immigration be lowered—only that certain quotas be shifted. Quotas now in effect haven't been filled for many years.

The United States has a chance to prove its devotion to preserving the rights of individuals against totalitarian threats, a chance that might mean more in the long run than the Truman Doctrine for preserving the rights of governments.

They'll Have To Do

AFTER heated debate but not much opposition in the form of votes, the senate has approved the peace treaties for Italy, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania. The treaties contain harsh terms, especially Italy's, which gives to Yugoslavia most of its coal and hydroelectric output.

They are far harsher treaties than the United States would have drawn if it were the only victor dictating the terms. But we were only one of the victors. As Senator Vandenberg said, "The treaties are the common denominator of the Allied minds. We cannot change them unilaterally even if we would. Senators can imagine what would happen in the potentially explosive boundary areas between Yugoslavia and Italy if the United States drew one boundary line in this controverted area and Russia drew another. .. Our emotional impulse, no matter how nobly mediated, are no match for these realities. I repeat that we face a condition, not a theory. So do these treaties. We must start to rebuild a broken world. The only way to begin is to begin."

Imperfect as they are, the treaties are the best that can be brought forth in this imperfect world. Their approval is a step, however faltering, toward stabilizing Europe.

It's Still No Crime

NEW JERSEY'S supreme court struck a blow for freedom when it ruled as follows in the case of a girl charged with vagrancy: "It is not an offense to wear blue overalls or to ride by gratuitous rides from Bangor, Me., to Florida, or to sleep in a truck, or to pick potatoes in one or another part of the country, or, with $14 in pocket, to be temporarily out of employment on the way from completion of one job to the search for another."

Thus is reaffirmed a condition every American hopes will always prevail in this country—that every person has the right to go when and where he pleases and by whatever means he chooses as long as he doesn't interfere with the safety or comfort of others.

Approximately $290,000,000 in war death claims were paid by U. S. commercial insurance companies (not including National Service Life Insurance) in World War II.

They Seek Contentment

By FRANK TRIPP

THERE are signs of a back to the past movement. Not to horse and buggy days. Rather to an interest in that which is the real America, its soil, its legends and its folks.

The Pulitzer prize for the best biography was awarded posthumously to William Allen White, the once obscure editor of a small paper in Kansas, the Emporia Gazette. The biography was his own, a story of the city and life of the man he knew best—himself; the tale of a great and humble American.

Frank Tripp

The same week a stage spectacle depicting wholesome American life captured the great city of London. "Oklahoma!" crashed the British capital as no production has in years, if ever. "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" dissolved even London's fog.

The man who made about the deepest impression at the war fronts spent few words on generals, statesmen and maneuvers. He wrote back home about GI's he met. He cabled heart-throb stories across the seas that told some anxious mother that he had seen her boy and he was well. Ernie Pyle sent stories from half way 'round the world that editors once brushed off their desks with scorn.

Until the hearts of the people burst upon the consciousness of hardboiled fact-merchants who had worshipped the idol of scoop and pomp and prominence—and ignored the commonplace for which the world begins to yearn.

Sermons are preached and exhorters plead that man must return to God to save civilization and his soul. No surer course could be advised. But how can one return to a place he has never been? Of too many that is true. They know neither God nor home.

Still there is unmistakable evidence that man is reaching almost blindly for that very goal. He will not admit it is God he seeks, but it must be, for man is searching for contentment—peace.

So he reaches back toward simplicity and nature and is beginning to like and praise the simple things of life, the primitive customs of days before the hectic times in which he lives. As he hears and sees the homely joys he once ignored he contrasts them with his harrassed life and seeks more knowledge of them. He wants that peace himself.

Once-blase throngs are going back to the modern "Old Homestead" and "York State Folks" as they come upon the stage. Printed stories for all the world like those our grandfathers read, though in current parlance, catch the popular fancy.

Children are learning and liking the songs and music of the 90's. The old waltz and semi-classics are coming back again. Youngsters leave their jazz and dance if one will talk to them interestingly of times their fathers lived.

These things are taking place and offer hope. Doubly so because 'tis not a silly search that's going on. It's an effort to blend the rugged, joyous past with the bothered present and create a sound future for a generation which knows not where to go.

All that can be told that is good of days we elders lived will do more to preserve true American equilibrium than expectancy of ease and fortune rooted in the minds of those who will take over when we leave.

The most hopeless man in all the world is one who has no knowledge of or respect for the wholesome things which created the society in which he lives. He is ignorant, selfish and dangerous.

The job lies in the home. First the child must know his forbears and the place from which he sprang. Back on the soil that's a religion in the home. If taught everywhere, generations will arise which truly love the land which gave them birth—and if they fight, will fight for love of home, instead of hate for some encroaching foe.

How can anyone love America if he doesn't know and love its past? Let's forget Marx and Stalin and preach Washington and Lincoln for a while.

Considers Some Staggering Statistics

Americans spent $8,700,000,000 for alcoholic beverages last year, according to figures just released by the department of commerce.

That's a lot of whisky, even at today's prices.

In fact, it is the most money spent for whisky in any one year since the repeal of prohibition, maybe even more than at the height of the Noble Experiment. If you use whisky in the strict sense of the word. Obviously, this would not hold true if one took into account the sales of canned heat, bay rum and anti-freeze.

Whisky has become one of the nation's biggest industries, both in dollar and jigger volume. Unlike most other major industries, it is unaffected by steel shortages, except in the case of corkscrews.

Moreover, alcoholic beverages support many an associated industry. Pretzels, for instance, are a multi-million dollar business. Every olive factory now has a vice president in charge of the martini trade. And more lumber still goes into swizzle sticks than housing.

Consider, too, the thousands who earn gainful employment in the field of hangover remedies . . . not to mention the hundreds of formerly unemployed photographers now busily engaged taking pictures of men of distinction.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, June 9, 1937.

Pope Pius told a group of Bavarian pilgrims that conditions in Nazi Germany were "so grave, so menacing and so dolorous" for Catholicism that "they cause one to weep."

Mrs. Henry Findling entertained the Never Fail club at her home on the Campbell road. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Carl Bischoff and Mrs. Ida Rauch of Columbus.

John L. Craner was elected master councilor of Marion Chapter, Order of DeMolay. Gerald Jennings and Willard Durfey were elected senior and junior councilors, respectively.

Mrs. Chester C. Roberts was reelected president in the annual picnic meeting of the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Schaffner on St. James street.

Lieutenant Commander Kenmore M. McManes was graduated from George Washington university, Washington, D. C. with the degree of juris doctor from the university law school. McManes was appointed to the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis by President Harding when he was U. S. senator.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, June 9, 1927.

The plants of the Galion Metallic Grave Vault Co. and the Ditweiler Manufacturing Co. in Galion were destroyed by fire.

Ray and Roy De Autremont, 27-year-old twins, were arrested at Steubenville, charged with the hold-up of a Southern Pacific railroad passenger train and the murder of four of the train crew at Siskou, Ore. Oct. 11, 1923. Ray was captured while at work in a steel plant at Steubenville and told where his brother could be found in a boarding house. Their capture was the result of the work done by a scientific detective on the west coast. Later both, with a third brother, were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Three carloads of marble to be used in final construction of the Harding Memorial arrived from the quarries in Georgia.

The program for the Marion county Chautauqua, July 28 to Aug. 2, was announced and Rev. Herbert F. Weckmueller, pastor of the First Reformed church was named chairman.

T. J. McFarland of Marion was elected president of the State Association of Fire Chiefs in convention at Mansfield.

The C., D. & M. and Osgood teams played to a 6-6 tie in an 11-inning game in the softball industrial league which was halted by darkness. Kochensperger pitched for the C., D. & M. and Toomire for the Osgood. The Steam Shovel team was leading in the league with four games won and none lost.

Holland Studies Supply Problem

By The Associated Press

THE HAGUE—Holland's acute problems are the scarcity of coal, timber, reconstruction material, textiles, tobacco and newsprint. The long term problem is whether to give priority to the house building program or the industrial program.

The minister of economic affairs, Dr. G. W. M. Huysmans, stresses that the building of new houses is urgent, but on the other hand execution of the industrial program is a necessity for the future prosperity of the country. He urges that the country go the Swiss way and establish industries. He also favors decentralization of plants as a remedy for unemployment in the agricultural districts.

He said the Dutch-Belgian customs union was an alliance that could lead to a successful marriage. Belgium, for instance, has a large glass industry, he said, which should be a reason for the Dutch not to concentrate on a similar industry.

Huysmans hopes for foreign investments in the Netherlands.

Southern Build-Up

Farmers who used to buy "bonedust" to drill with their wheat noted the percentages of potash, phosphoric acid, and nitrates printed on the sacks. Those were the "big three." The importance of traces of a long list of other ingredients, such as boron, cobalt, calcium, copper, magnesium and manganese—if the plants are to be fit nourishment for man and beast—has recently been recognized. The opinion has been expressed that the fertilizer-conscious South may be on the way to improving its diet by diversification of crops, particularly by building up its pastures and dairies. The recent emergence of Florida as a beef-cattle state augurs well for better food in the South and the Nation.—O. S. U. Science and Appliance.

UN Differences Stall Action on Chief Issues

By LARRY HAUCK

LAKE SUCCESS, June 9—Differences between Russia and the western powers have stalled the United Nations on virtually every major political issue and threaten to delay the operational machinery for peace-keeping.

In some quarters, however, hopes are expressed that the UN may work itself out of the impasse in the fall when the 55-nation general assembly meets again.

Soviet Foregin Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Secretary of State George C. Marshall are expected to appear then and new decisions finally may be reached on the highest level to break the log jams.

Five Top Problems

Aside from the Palestine inquiry just getting under way, the UN is grappling with five top political problems and in each case is making little or no progress:

(1) Atomic Energy—Actually there has been little change since a year ago June 14 when Bernard M. Baruch laid down the American plan for control of atomic energy and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko rejected its top features and offered a counter proposal unacceptable to the United States. Russia says the bombs must be outlawed first; the United States firmly holds it can surrender no secrets until there is an effective system of international control.

Every real decision taken has found Russia dissenting or abstaining as the issues are passed from committee to committee. The Russians seem satisfied with this procedure and have hardly budged an inch.

(2) Arms Reduction—The optimism engendered by the 1946 general assembly's adoption of high-sounding principles for reducing the world's armaments has generally been wiped out in recent months. A climax came in the last week when a Big Five sub-committee of the commission on conventional armaments was unable to agree on even a work program for the commission to follow. The program question was routed back to the commission itself where the added voices of the six small nation members hardly can be expected to break any deadlock.

(3) Global Police Force—The security council opened debate last week on organization of an international army in the shadow of a military staff committee report, compiled after 15 months of secret session, that showed Russia dissenting on more than one-third of the bare principles. Here again there was little hope for early solution.

(4) Trieste—With the Italian peace treaty soon to be formally ratified by individual governments, the UN still had not put forward a governor for Trieste. The United States delegation seemed to sum up the general attitude by letting it be known publicly that it would submit no more candidates in view of Russia's unexplained rejection of every name offered by the western powers.

Russia offered two names, but in this the western powers were careful to explain their objections were based on qualifications and not political reasons.

(5) The Balkans — After a lengthy on-the-spot inquiry in the Balkans, a security council commission has compiled a report placing major blame for guerrilla activities along Greece's northern borders on her neighbor Soviet satellites—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria. Russia dissented on the report when it was written in Geneva and there was good reason to expect that Gromyko would veto the findings once up for vote in the council.

Axis Chaos Casts Shadow

In addition to these deadlocks, the generally chaotic situation in the former Axis nations already is casting a shadow across the UN halls.

Failing to get a Big Four agreement on Austria, U. S. Secretary of State Marshall has threatened to bring the whole issue of a treaty to the general assembly in September.

In Hungary, which already has applied for UN membership, the seizure of power by Communists prompted Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) to declare that the United States may find it necessary to bring the whole matter before the UN, but obviously little concrete action could be taken with Russia holding the veto power.

The United States announced full support for Italy in her application for UN membership and there were indications that Washington generally felt that it would be advisible to get the tamed Axis countries inside the UN immediately and thus be in a position to deal directly with a government on an equal basis with the other members.

Lurking in the background is the old problem of Franco Spain, where Russia and others want to take definite action to oust the generalissimo. The western powers, joining in general condemnation of the Falangist regime, still do not want to go beyond withdrawal of ministers and ambassadors from Madrid. The assembly decided last fall to recommend that all 55 members carry out the withdrawal. So far, the UN says, Argentina, El Salvador and the Dominican Republic have not complied.

Commemorative Coins

Senate Frowns on Further Special Issues

CONGRESS apparently is fed up with the number of commemorative coins the mint has been striking in recent years. Pending before the Senate is a bill to discontinue the minting of such coins and to authorize commemorative medals instead.

Rather than serving as a medium of exchange, commemorative coins have been a fund-raising dodge to garner the collector's dollar. Furthermore, the Senate's coinage subcommittee doesn't believe coins should be issued in a multiplicity of designs because that increases the possibility of counterfeiting.

Most recent request for a commemorative issue comes from Wisconsin which is preparing to observe its centenary. It asks for 500,000 50-cent pieces to be bought by the state for $250,000 and resold for $1,000,000, the profits to finance an exposition.

Wisconsin's request was not received too cordially by Senator Flanders, coinage subcommittee chairman, who said: "The special coinage situation has proved to be rather embarrassing owing to the large number of requests for special coinage, the one made today being the eighth up to date and I have heard of more coming . . . The simple way to handle this matter, to my mind, is to say that we will have no more."

When Senator Wiley of Wisconsin pointed out that his state wouldn't bother Congress again for 100 years, Senator Flanders pointed out that the state had had some other kind of commemorative coin struck only seven years ago.

As to the Wisconsin senator's suggestion that commemorative coins be issued only for state centennials, or similar state observances, Senator Flanders said: "It would be necessary to give the same adequate consideration to events and anniversaries of national significance . . . so that such commemorative celebrations do not seem to me to provide the rule which can properly be followed."

Best Music Offered And GI's Love It

MUNICH, Germany—Clustered around the fireplace of the 600-year-old beer cellar where Germans listened to Hitler on the night of the "putsch" of 1923, American occupation soldiers today are hearing—and liking—classical music.

Billed by the American Red Cross girls in charge of recreation at the Burgerbraukeller Club as "Coffee and Classics," the weekly program brings to newly-converted GI music lovers a kind of music many of them never heard before and artists of a caliber they might never hear at home—members of the Bavarian State Operetta, soloists from the Munich State Opera House, musicians from the Munich Philharmonic.

Traditional Mascot

Dalmatians, black and white spotted dogs, are famous as the mascot of fire stations throughout the nation. They adapt themselves readily to the sirens and usually, when full grown, accompany the men on the trucks to fire calls.

Tax was purchased from the Scheckler Regal Kennels north of town and is registered with the American Kennel club. He was sired by Regal Gorgeous Skipper and Regal Fancy Frock. He stands about 12 inches now and has one very black ear and patch. The right ear is a mixture of black and white and the difference in color gives an amusing lopsided look to the pup.

Getting New Spots.

Dalmatians are born pure white and then acquire their black spots as they grow older. Tax is well on his way but still he sprouts a new spot every so often.

His official bed is a box placed in the back room of the station house but Tax is more often to be found sitting in the lap of some of the crew or if he takes his choice of where to sleep he will pick one of the chairs.

In his box a conglomeration of odds and ends including an alarm clock to keep him company at nights can be found. Some of the firemen admitted that perhaps the pup hadn't dragged in all of the items himself.

So far Tax hasn't made any official runs because the firemen think he is a bit small and needs a little too much care to take to a fire. However the siren and alarm bell doesn't disturb him a bit. He has made himself right at home and so far hasn't attempted to wander away, but the reason for that could be as one fireman said, "he hasn't had much chance."

Surgeon General Says War Talk "Nonsense"

By The Associated Press

MARIETTA, O., June 9—The U. S. surgeon general says that in his opinion gloomy predictions of another war within a decade or of a "vast economic depression" are "irrevelant nonsense."

Addressing 76 Marietta college graduates last night, Dr. Thomas Parran declared, "your nation and mine need not be plunged either into the horrors of atomic warfare of the shambles of an economic depression unless you and I and other men and women of good will are so passive, embittered and hopeless as to stand aside and let destructive influences take their course."

Dr. Parran was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of science. Other awarded honorary degrees included Dr. Frank E. Adair of New York City, past president of the American Cancer society, and Bishop H. Lester Smith of the Ohio area of the Methodist church, who preached the baccalaureate sermon.

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., June 9—Universal military training has been approved by the AMVETS of Ohio, who concluded their state convention here yesterday.

Elected vice commanders were James M Mathews of Springfield, Leroy Meyers of Chevlot, Robert E. Rogers of Mansfield, Peter Kramer of Sandusky, Howard C Cook of Toledo and John Scott of Cleveland. By The Associated Press

BUDAPEST, June 9—The Communists have offered to buy out the Hungarian - American Oil Company Maort, an American informant said today, and have threatened to banish from Hungary the concern's American executives.

The informant said the Communists were considering nationalization of the country's oil fields—as they contemplate nationalization of banks and industry—but were faced with the fact that Russia gets half the Hungarian royalties of Maort Russia obtained half of the Hungarian royalties last year in negotiations which set up a Russian-Hungarian oil company called Maszovol

The informant and leading Hungarian political observers, advised of developments, agreed it would be only a matter of time before the new Communist-dominated Hungarian regime—rushed into office with the resignation of Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy—would take some action on Maort The company was developed and is principally owned by Standard Oil Co of New Jersey

G.A.R. Commander Calls on Youth To "Spuelch" Reds

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, June 9—A 101-year-old Civil war veteran asked American youth to 'squelch' Communism today as the 81st annual Ohio encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began

"Communists are trying to split our nation said John H Grate of Atwater, O "They're doing all they can to get officers into public offices

"I want to see America's youth squelch them

Grate and 102-year-old John R Bennett of Waynesfield were the only ones of Ohio's seven surviving Civil war veterans able to make the trip to Columbus for what may well be the final encampment of the G A R

'We should pass a law against Communists holding public office," said Grate, adding he had "complete faith' in the nation's youth

Grate, national state and post commander of the G A R fingered one of the many medals on his chest, straightened the traditional black campaign hat on his silvery head, and said

'They tried to split the nation in '60 Another group is trying now The first didn't succeed The second mustn't and they won't"

Just as in the past when hundreds of the "boys in blue" were accustomed to parade in the capital during the state encampment Columbus had the "welcome G A R" signs out today

The two hardy centenarians saw the friendly greetings and were pleased

Five other Ohio survivors of the Union army were unable to attend Oakley Bailey of Alliance, who will be 104 June 14 sent word he didn't feel strong enough to make the trip

Commander Grate declared he would have come to the meeting even "if I would have had to walk" He and Bennett plan to attend the national encampment in Cleveland in August

More Miners Join In Labor Bill "Protest"

By The Associated Press

UNIONTOWN, Pa, June 9 — Another 3,600 miners joined a work stoppage in the southwestern Pennsylvania bituminous fields today, raising to nearly 10 000 the number idle in what some described as a protest against the union-curbing bill adopted by congress

Fourteen mines were idle, most of them captive pits operated by large steel companies—U S Steel Corp, Weirton Steel, Jones and Laughlin and Republic Steel — which have been producing record-breaking tonnages to meet big market demands for steel

However, the 300 members of one AFL United Mine Workers local returned to work when their president, Andrew S. Rayner, warned against any violation of the federal anti-strike injunction which was sustained by the supreme court The government gives up jurisdiction over the mines July 1, when they return to their private owners.

FORMER RFC CHIEF SEES NO DEPRESSION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—Jesse Jones said today "I see no possibility of a depression in the near future"

In a statement filed with the house banking committee, the former chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation declared "I do not believe we can talk ourselves into a depression."

"Some reduction in the price of necessities is, of course, highly desirable and would help lower the cost of living," the Texas publisher added

Jones cited six specific reasons why he thinks business should continue to prosper.

1 "There is urgent necessity of construction work of every character, public and private, throughout the country There is a shortage of homes to live in, and homes for business There is prooably not a city, town or village in the entire country which it not far behind on essential improvements, that have been neglected during the war period.

2. "Most public utilities have improvement or expansion programs.

3 "Railroads, highway construction, public schools, hospitals and civic improvements generally are far behind.

4 "Industry is having to replace outmoded and inefficient buildings and equipment on a substantial scale.

5 "Altogether, there is so very much to be done, which necessarily has been neglected for the past half dozen years, that business should be good for quite some time.

6 "Furthermore, our banks and financial institutions are in excellent condition and there is, of course, no lack of credit from private sources for most purposes"

Avoiding War Depends On U. S., Graduates Told

ATHENS, O, June 9—James B Conant, Harvard university president, told an Ohio university graduating class of 368 in a commencement address today that "the chances of avoiding a major war within the lifetime of you veterans of World War II turn on the success or failure of the United States as a 'going concern'"

The educator and scientist declared that "scientifically we are now living in the atomic age The physicists and chemists are exploring a wonderful universe to which there seemed no access a short 10 years ago"

Dr. Conant asserted he believed "there is still a reasonable chance that a scheme for the international control of atomic energy will be adopted," hastening to add "but I make no prophecy as to the date."

Where Does U. S. Go from Here In Fight Against Communism?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9—Where do we go from here?

Since World War II this country has shoveled out more than $15,000,000,000 in civilian relief

Most of it—like loans, food, clothing—has gone to European countries. It's been sent piecemeal, to plug a hole here, fill a need there.

James Marlow

And the countries of Europe still are in bad shape The more disorganized they become, the more apt they are to turn to Communism

In a sudden effort to stop the spread of Communism, this government rushed help to the present governments of Greece and Turkey

This move, called the "Truman doctrine," received plenty of criticism here and abroad The critics called it American interference

Doesn't Scare Reds

It didn't scare or stop the Communists Blocked, although maybe only temporarily, in Greece, they took over Hungary last week. Where next?

The Communists are powerful in France and Italy If these countries were to go Communist, the pressure on smaller nations to do likewise would be terrific.

A Communized Europe might mean a tragic depression here through loss of trade with Europe.

What to do?

Does this country go on pushing out help piece-meal to European nations which may take it and then go Communist anyway?

Congress In No Mood

Congress seems in no mood for that There was plenty of opposition in congress this session against handing out more European relief.

Now Secretary of State Marshall has a plan or perhaps it's only a proposal Briefly, it's this.

The European countries should get together and figure out a program of their needs if they want continued American help

This would mean a cooperative effort to get on their feet, yet, European countries in all their history have never been able to do that

Has anyone in the state department figured out exactly how this European get-together program can be set up?

Proposal Vague Thing

This writer inquired at the state but could get no "yes" answer So at this moment Marshall's proposal seems a pretty vague thing

It didn't spring suddenly out of his head There's been talk here for weeks that some organized relief and reconstruction plan for Europe is needed

(On May 20 Henry Wallace who's been opposing President Truman's policy, suggested we start a 10-year reconstruction program on a big scale for needy nations

(On May 21 Harold E. Stassen who's seeking the Republican presidential nomination, also suggested a big 10-year reconstruction program)

To Cost Billions

Such a reconstruction program—and it would mean a thought-out, organized program—would cost billions of dollars

Congress, balking now at piecemeal help to Europe, might go for a thought-out program of reconstruction Maybe

But, in return for such help, would congress want promises from the countries which received it? For example

Promises by them that they'd do things the way this country wants them done

We're taking an active hand in Greek affairs Would we want to do this in other western European countries?

Would that, in the end, mean a lineup of western European nations, led by the United States, against the Communist nations?

Nerve-Wracking Last Week Faces Ohio Legislature

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. June 9—The Ohio legislature returns tonight for its final week and practically all major bills await completion

It will be a nerve-wracking week and it's not at all unlikely the legislators may have to work into next Sunday morning—with clock faces covered

The controversial Daniels-Cramer school subsidy bill has been largely responsible for the heavy final week backlog

Until this measure emerges from a senate-house conference committee, which is seeking to reconcile an $83 500 000 house version with $89 000 000 the senate wants appropriated, the $585 - 000,000 general appropriation measure cannot be approved in final form.

The local government aid program also is to be completed Included in the program are a house-approved repeal of the state admission tax allocation of a $27,250 000 local government fund for this year and $12 000 000 to supplement intangible taxes of $13,000 00 in 1948

Labor legislation has yet to be enacted by both houses. It includes a senate-approved measure to ban strikes by public employes, a curb on union activities and a proposed constitutional amendment to outlaw the closed shop The latter two bills have not reached the floor, and appear unlikely of getting through both chambers before adjournment.

An urban redevelopment bill to permit cities to acquire land to eliminate blighted areas was on the schedule for a vote tonight

Other pending measures, already approved by the senate, would:

Permit sale and manufacture of colored oleo

Reorganize the state agriculture department.

Create a state turnpike commission

Create a judges' pension system

LATIN AMERICA REDS "WORSE THAN NAZIS"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden says Communists in Latin America are a greater peril to democracy "than even the Nazi" columnists."

"Their whole program is to create chaos at every turn," he told a house appropriations subcommittee.

"They are in on every potential revolution, and it does not matter who is behind it."

Braden testified during committee consideration of funds for the Institute of Inter-American affairs and the Inter-American Educational Foundation, Inc., which engage in social and economic programs in Latin America. The testimony was made public today

Braden, who has resigned from the state department effective June 30, has long contended that Argentina failed to root out German Nazi elements during and after the war.

But he told the subcommittee that Germans in Latin America 'did not get into the national life in the same way as the Communists get in."

"The Communists," he said, "get the nationals of the country into their organizations and they particularly get at the labor classes, which the Nazis were never able to do, so as to try to influence them just as we have seen in this country, even though they are a small minority."

"I've discarded the theory of a maniac at large and will continue on the accidental theory," said the police chief

A police detail was continued at the hospital last night

Chief Switter said he had questioned the children to determine if one of them might have picked the babies up and accidentally dropped them

He reported he had switched to a theory of accidental deaths because no one had heard scuffling in the pediatrics ward or seen any one enter or leave the room and because the heads of the children were not crushed as might be expected by a maniacal killer.

BRUINS CLIP SPRINGFIELD, 8-2 AND 14-8, DROP ONE, 10-8

Cubs Edge Back Into League's 1st Division; Lima Here Tonight

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs jumped back into the first division of the Ohio State league over the weekend with two victories and one defeat in three games with the Springfield Giants. The Cubs won Saturday night, 8 to 2, and Sunday afternoon, 14 to 8, before losing the final Sunday night, 10 to 8.

In the Saturday night contest southpaw Jim Sabens struckout 16 Giants and allowed only two hits, both by outfielder Gil Goldstone, to mark up his second win since joining the Bruins last week.

The Society for the Improvement of Anemic Batting Averages met in the Sunday afternoon contest and the Cubs registered 16 safe blows and the Giants 15 as seven pitchers saw action for the two teams, four for Springfield and three for the Cubs.

Righthander "Jitts" Lawrence was credited with the win. Estes, righthander of the Giants, was socked for the loss.

In the Sunday night game, Frank Smith's fine relief hurling went for naught when he took over with the score 8 to 1 and the bases full with none out in the fourth and allowed only three hits and two runs for the remainder of the route. John Edington, starting the game with only two days' rest, was charged with the defeat.

One bad inning marred the work of Jim Sabens in the Saturday night game. He allowed a double to Gil Goldstone in the fifth and then walked four men to push across two runs in that inning. Goldstone touched him for a triple in the sixth for the only other hit.

Sabens, who looks able to supply the Cubs' need for a capable lefthander, struckout every man in the Springfield lineup at least once, getting Hosler three times. He retired the side on strikes in three games, third, fourth and ninth.

Cubs Get 12 Hits

While Sabens was forcing 16 Giants to walk the lonesome road back to the dugout and allowing two hits, the Cubs were touching John Greco, righthander, for 12 safe blows.

The Cubs' big inning came in the third to put the game on ice, with five runs. Shuford singled sharply over second and Sabens when attempting to move him up with a bunt, was safe when Hosler threw wild to second. Hollingshead singled to fill the bases. Smith hit to the pitcher who fumbled allowing Shuford to score. Gene Bobzean then sent two runners over with a double.

After Maxhimer walked, Manager Burbrink then sent Smitty in from third with a long fly to center. Jim Forbes forced Maxhimer at second and with runners on first and third the Cubs worked their pat play. Forbes broke for second while Greco held the ball. When the hurler threw to second from th rubber Bobzean was waved in from third on a balk.

Score in Fourth

The Cubs scored in the fourth on an error on Shuford's roller, a sacrifice by Sabens, which Hosler threw to late at second, allowing the husky outfielder to go to third, where Ramsay covering dropped the throw.

John Smith got the RBI on a single.

Two more runs were added in the eighth on singles by Holly and Smith and a double by Maxhimer. Manager Burbrink went hitless in this game for one of the few games in which he has failed to get at least one safe blow.

In the Sunday afternoon game Springfield jumped into a 4 to 3 second inning lead, but the Cubs went ahead with three markers in the fourth on singles by Smith, Maxhimer and Burbrink and a double by Forbes.

Three more runs came in the fifth on an error, a secrifice another error, a walk, a fielder's choice, another walk and a double by Burbrink. A walk, an error, a stolen base and a single by Smith tallied two runs in the sixth.

Inside Homer

In the eighth Gene Bobzean hit a home run inside the park with two on to score three more runs.

In the game last night the Giants got eight runs off Edington on eight hits and seven walks before he was relieved too late by Frank Smith.

The Cubs fought back desperately in the late sessions and a ninth inning rally died two runs short. In this session Maxhimer and Burbrink hit successive home runs to get within two runs of the Giants.

The four-baser by Maxhimer went over the scoreboard while Burbrink's was a triple to right center that was lost in the weeds.

Manager Don Ramsay protested the home run by Haxhimer, saying Max did not touch third. The Springfield team got a new ball and threw to third, but both umps ruled safe. The Giants had not put the ball in play by having the pitcher touch the rubber while holding the ball or Max might have been called out after hitting the ball out of the park.

Byham relieved West after the two homer and got three Cubs in order to stop the threat.

Lima Here Tonight

Tonight the Cubs play Lima at Lincoln park in a game postponed from the first series of the season with the Terriers. It was originally scheduled for an open date.

Ed Witowski who has hurled excellent ball in relief roles will get a starting chance.

The Cubs go to Lima tomorrow night for a single game and then return here Wednesday to face the Terriers again following the contest between the Lima and Marion Legion teams.

Burbrink's Kin High At Women's Keg Congress

Betty Burbrink, an aunt of Nelson Burbrink, teamed up with Marge Redmond in the Woman's International Bowling Congress at Grand Rapids, Mich., to place with the winners in the doubles tournament. Both are from Nelse's home town, Cincinnati. They rolled 1,180 to collect a $135 prize, according to The Associated Press.

"SPIDER" JORGENSEN is making Brooklyn fans forget Arky Vaughan. The spidery fellow with the broomstick legs will do for a long time to come around Ebbets field "hot corner," Branch Rickey feels. Sold on him at the Havana training grounds, Rickey has been rejoicing ever since as "Spider" continues to deal out extra base knocks.

Cardington's First Grid Team in 35 Years Set

MT. GILEAD, June 9 — The schedule for Cardington's first football team in 35 years was announced this week by Supt. J. L. Patterson. The following games will be played: Sept. 26, Centerburg; Oct. 10 at Sunbury; Oct. 24, at Mt. Sterling; Oct. 31, Bellville; Nov. 7, at West Jefferson; and Nov. 14, Mt. Gilead.

A home game for Oct. 17 is being sought. Dennis D. Bell, of Antwerp, a graduate of Defiance college, has been employed to coach all sports at Cardington next year. He succeeds Theodore Gantz, who will devote full time to his office of principal.

OPPONENTS FAIL TO SHOW

The Blue Birds baseball team went after their third win yesterday, but Green Camp didn't show up. The game had been scheduled at McKinley park.

Legion Team Planning Good Show at Wednesday Debut

By GEORGE BORST

The American Legion junior baseball team is planning to show fans some classy playing Wednesday night.

Opening game will be a team benefit doubleheader with the juniors playing Lima American Legion the first game and the Cubs playing Lima Terriers the second. Starting time is 6 p. m.

Practices today and tomorrow afternoon will wind up the preliminary work for the tilt. This afternoon Coach Irvin planned to send his charges through a regular schedule and tomorrow a practice game is on the schedule.

To Play Blue Birds

They will scrimmage against the Blue Birds, a youthful independent team. Manager Irvin has stated that he's asked for no mercy from the older boys, because he wants his club to get the feel of competition. The game won't count toward the record.

Displaying the traditional optimism of a baseball manager, Irvin is looking for his team to win. He also expects the team members to think along the same lines. Confidence is one of a team's most valuable assets, he asserted.

Three Pitcher Possible

Starting pitcher is as yet undecided, although Irvin has about three boys to choose from. They are Jack Owens, a Harding boy, Ed Roseberry, another from the President's school, and Dick Weis from St. Mary. All are right handers. A left hander is still needed to bolster the staff.

Any southpaw interested should contact Irvin.

One of the games biggest thrills is a home run, and this department may be left up to Bob Ralston and Dick Huddle. Each of these boys hits a long ball. Irvin will be saitsfied if they reserve their Sunday swings and hit for the bingles.

A drive has been on to make the game a sell out. Sponsors of the team are hoping to sell 4,000 tickets at $1 each to the game. Money raised will be used towards the team, and may help to support an intra-city league.

Past Half-Way Mark

Chairman of the ticket sales drive, Jewell Ralston, reported that he believed the drive was past the half-way mark Saturday. He was unable to get an accurate count, but said unofficial reports indicated that better than 2,000 tickets had been sold. Sales at ball games has been good, and at the end of the week interest had grown, making purchases at places where tickets could be obtained pick up.

Denny Malloy's Quality Beer and Wine store and Ralston Brother's general store have been added to the last of places where tickets can be purchased.

The other places are Lincoln-Mercury Sales, National City bank, Jim Dugan clothing store, Markert and Lewis, Schulte cigar store, Smart and Waddell shoe store, Class Baths, Terzo Drug store, Bowes Ice Cream, Acme Beer and Wine distributing, Eagles lodge, Banko Grill, Lords Jewelry, Cunningham Plumbing, Marion Candy and Cigar Store, and Roy Mash Beer Room.

In Marion county tickets can be bought at Clyde restaurant in Waldo, Doyles restaurant in Prospect, and American Legion post in Prospect.

Zanesville Loses But Still Retains First by 4 Games

By The Associated Press

Ohio State league standings were well shuffled by weekend games, but the Zanesville Dodgers, despite a 1-0 loss to Muncie yesterday, retained top spot by a healthy four-game margin.

The Muncie, Ind., Packers moved out of the league cellar by blanking the Dodgers in a hurling duel involving a trio of Muncie pitchers and two Dodger moundsmen. Each club had five safe hits, but in the ninth inning Muncie made one of them—an infield single by Spike Foster—pay off with a run. Foster stole second, took third on a fielder's choice and stole home on an attempt by the Dodger hurler to pick the runner off first base.

The afternoon game at Zanesville was postponed by rain, and wet grounds spoiled a scheduled doubleheader for Richmond at Newark Sunday.

Dayton's Indians jumped from sixth to third place by beating the Lima Terriers 9-0 and 3-2 at Lima. Infielder Ray Adams of Dayton clubbed two homers in the first game and one in the nightcap.

Night Softball League Schedule for Week

The night softball league schedule is as follows:

Tuesday night, Huber vs. Fairfield and Universal Cooler vs. Marion Power Shovel.

Thursday night, Schlairet vs. Shantytown bar and Junior Chamber of Commerce vs. Marion Metal Products.

SCHLAIRET NIPPED 9-8 BY GALIONITES

Moose Lodge Dumps Marionites on Soggy Grounds.

Galion Moose defeated Schlairet 9 to 8 yesterday at Galion.

Lamb and Burgraff led the Galion attack with two hits each and Stout led Schlairet with two doubles and three singles.

The field was still showing the effects of the spring rains, which partially accounts for the number of errors committed.

Manager Somerlot and his players have charged today that failure of the umpires to call them right caused Schlairet to lose the game.

Galion Moose	012 000 231—9	11	5

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching. Walter Masterson, Senators—Pitched 16 scoreless innings against the Chicago White Sox and yet did not receive credit for Washington's 1-0 victory in 18 innings. He was replaced by Early Wynn who pitched two innings and received credit for the win.

Batting. Ralph Kiner, Pirates—Hit his second home run of the day in the ninth inning of the second game to beat Philadelphia 5-4. He also homered in the first game with one on to account for Pittsburgh's two runs in the Phils' 5-2 triumph.

RAPPING RIGHTIES did it for Pat Mullin, currently leading the Detroit Tigers in hitting departments. He hit .345 in 1941 as a rookie, but following a tour of war service, slipped to .246 last year. To restores his badly shaken confidence, Manager Steve O'Neill used him during the early part of this season only when right handed pitchers were opposing the Bengals. He regained his confidence, his old hitting form, and a starting berth in the No. 5 batting slot. He plays in all games now and some fans are wiling to forget Hank Greenberg. Even when southpaws are pitching.

Bosox, A's Learn It's Not True What They Say About Hal, Bob

By The Associated Press

The Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were convinced today that they were the victims of a colossal hoax.

They had heard reports that Hal Newhouser and Bob Feller, the two premier pitchers in baseball, were nearing the end of their trail.

Unless it was a mirage, the Red Sox and A's players who had to meet Hal and Bob face to face yesterday can testify that on Sunday's performance, they still are the two best hurlers in the game.

Shuts Out Red Sox

Newhouser, who prior to yesterday's outing showed a record of only five wins against six losses, and had been knocked out of the box five times this season, turned in his best mound effort of the year in shutting out the Red Sox 5-0, allowing four hits.

The Tigers' win increased their first place American league margin to a game and a half over the New York Yankees.

Feller went Newhouser one hit better by limiting the Athletics to three singles in blanking them 2-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. The A's, behind Phil Marchildon's four-hit hurling, won the opener 4-0.

The New York Yankees were lucky to get away with a standoff as they came from behind in the late innings to nip St. Louis 5-4 and escape with a split in their doubleheader with the Browns. The Missourians won the opener handily 9-2.

18-Inning Marathon

Washington and the Chicago White Sox played through 18 innings before the Senators emerged with a 1-0 victory in the first game of a doubleheader at Chicago. The White Sox won the second game, 8-2.

Not only was the opener the longest game of the 1947 season, but it tied the major league record for the longest 1-0 game ever played. Only three others have been played. They were won by Providence over Detroit, Aug 17, 1882, in the National league, Washington over Chicago, May 15, 1918, in the American and New York over St. Louis, July 2, 1933, in the National.

In the only games permitted by weather in the National league, the Philadelphia Phils and Pittsburgh divided a doubleheader in Philadelphia. Dutch Leonard gained his seventh triumph against two losses, by pitching the Phils to a 5-2 win in the opener. Ralph Kiner, National league home run leader, belted his second round tripper of the day in the ninth inning to give the Pirates a 5-4 win in the nightcap.

SMITTY'S ALL-STARS WIN THRILLER, 7 TO 6

Smitty's All-Stars pulled one out of the fire in an overtime game at Crystal lake yesterday to keep their softball slate clean.

Chuck Reid's one hit of the game was the bingle that closed the book in the ninth. The All-Stars getting a 7-6 win over Gorman Rupp of Mansfield. Roseberry and Wilcox had hit before him to set things up.

It wasn't until the seventh the All-Stars were able to get even as Mansfield built up a lead in the first four innings. Smitty's scored single runs in the first, second, third, seventh, and ninth innings and had their big frame in the fourth when they chased three across. Mansfield scored three in the first, two in the second, and got their final tally in the fourth.

The locals made 14 hits off Merele McKinley while Millison gave up six.

Tonight the All-Stars are traveling to Ashland to play the Ashland Merchants and next Sunday they will be at home to play the Robbins club of Lima at 3:30 p. m.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"FAITH, my darling!" Mary cried, leaning forward in her chair and holding out her arms to my small daughter whose feet hardly touched the floor as she dashed to the glamorous cousin she loves and admires with a child's idolatry.

"Oh! Cousin Mary!" Faith almost sobbed as Mary's arms went round her. "I've missed you so, and I'm glad you're home again and all better!"

"And I'm so glad to see you," Mary told her. "Now, tell me all about everything—your school, and the boys, and—everything."

I leaned back and relaxed. There was no danger in the conversation from now on, I knew, for Faith could be garrulous for hours over her school activities. I saw Katharine slipping into the sitting room, and knew that she, too, felt free to go on with her breakfast orders.

But just before she closed the door, she gave a parting admonition.

"I'll give you five minutes, Faith," she said. "Then I'll come for you. Breakfast will be up for us pretty soon. And if Cousin Mary isn't tired, perhaps you may come to see her again tomorrow."

"Oh! Oh!" Faith cried. "Do I have to wait till tomorrow? Are you as sick as all that?"

Then she clapped her hands over her mouth while her eyes first widened with horror, then filled with tears.

"Oh, Mummie!" she wailed, "I talked out of turn, and I didn't mean to. The bad words just slipped right out so fast I couldn't catch them!"

Eyes Flew to Mary

My eyes flew, frightened, to Mary's face.

Then I breathed freely again, for Mary, bent forward in her easy chair, was laughing heartily, wiping her eyes with every appearance of enjoyment.

"Faith, you're priceless!" she said when she could speak. "I can just see your mother giving you the works about this visit. Go on! Talk some more out of turn!"

"I'm getting out," Katharine said, laughing. "This is your dish of spaghetti, Madge. See if you can wind it up on your fork!"

She closed the sitting room door behind her, and behind Faith's back, I shook my fist at Mary, glad, indeed, that she was in the mood for the burlesqued gesture.

"You didn't talk out of turn, Faith," I said. "So don't worry about it any more. Just tell Cousin Mary about your school, and everything she wants to know."

A Secret

"And I'll tell you a secret," Mary supplemented. "You've made me feel a lot better already, and if these cross old grown-ups will let me, I'm going to ask you to come to call on me again today after your school."

"Oh, goody-goody," Faith caroled, and then jerked spasmodically to attention as Mary went on.

"And I want you to remember everything funny that happens today, and tell it to me when you come again," she said.

"Oh, I will!" Faith promised ecstatically, and, knowing her, I was very sure that if nothing hilarious happened during the school session, she would invent something calculated to arouse Mary's mirth.

"And now," Mary went on, "tell me all about everything!"

Faith needed no further encouragement. Her tongue which, her grandmother declares is "hung in the middle," never stopped "wagging" in a spirited monologue until Katharine came through the door. Mary put in an occasional appreciative "Ah!" and "Oh!" but she needed to say nothing more. She also laughed more. She also laughed frequently, with what appeared to be genuine mirth, and I found myself hoping against hope that the magic of a little child's leading might help materially to solve the grave problem which Katharine and I were facing.

A Successful Session

"This looks like a most successful session," Katharine commented, with an appraising glance at Mary. "Say good-bye now, Faith, and if Cousin Mary is not too tired when you come home, perhaps you may see her again."

"I already have made a tentative promise to that effect, subject to your approval," I said, and she wrinkled her nose at me.

"I am echoing your words about approval," she said. "Anything you say goes with me. Come, Faith, we must go now."

"May I kiss Cousin Mary goodbye first?" Faith asked sweetly, and I knew that she was postponing the moment of departure as long as possible.

"Yes, if you hurry," Katharine agreed, and in another minute she had expertly ushered Faith from the room.

Mary looked up at me, her mask of gayety slipping.

"May we get at those lines now?" she asked feverishly.
